“Customers will never love a company until the employees love it first”
-Simon Sinek

NeoTech family celebrates over a decade of experience in working with government, with a small operational footprint who boldly took up the challenge of providing single-source-of-truth. NeoTech landed up when there is a huge confusion about data problems in government agencies. It was founded in the year 1996 with a rebellious spirit and lofty objective; to offer products at a revolutionary price while leading the way to socially conscious business.
